We would like to make you aware of a dangerous game called the "Momo Challenge" that has been circulating on social media. The game is directed at children and young adults. The challenge involves performing various tasks and providing photos as proof. Some of the tasks are violent and may involve self harm and even suicide. There has already been deaths associated with this challenge.

Please talk with your children about the dangers and ask them to speak up if they see anyone they know involved in this challenge. Please see the attached Safety Guide for Parents and reference links.
